WHIE!

EARTHQUAKED!

The Democratic Majority In Kentucky Swept Away.

BRADLEY ELECTED GOVERNOR BY 10,000 OR MORE MAJORITY.

Louisville Went 3,600 Republican and Even the Second District Slumped.

BREATHITT DEFEATS LINN BY 400 MAJORITY.

The Legislature Republican.

The following is a list of the Republican state officers who will enter upon their duties Dec. 10:

Governor, Wm. O. Bradley.
Lieut. Governor, Wm. J. Worthington.

Secretary of State, Chas. Finley.
Attorney General, Wm. S. Taylor.
Auditor, Samuel H. Stone.
Treasurer, Geo. W. Long.
Supt. of Schools, Wm. J. Davidson.
Com. of Agriculture, Lucas Moore.
Register of Land Office, Chas. O. Reynolds.

They all belong to the white wing of their party.

New York, Nov. 5.—Republicans carried New York state by 80,000 plurality. New Jersey by over 25,000, Maryland by 10,000 and captured Kentucky. Besides swinging the states over into the Republican column, they increased their usual majority in Massachusetts, Ohio, Iowa and all other states where elections were held. It was a Democratic Waterloo. Tammany elected best local ticket by about 20,000, and New York City went Democratic for secretary of state by 41,000, but the Republicans came down to the bridge with over 100,000 votes to spare. In the Tenth congressional district Amos J. Cummings, Democrat, was elected, but his success was plainly due to his personal popularity.

Of the 50 senators in the state, Democrats elected only 14 and of the 150 assemblymen only 51.

The senate elected will have part in the selection of a successor to David B. Hill and it is plain he will not be a Democrat. Republican gains were general all over the state. In this city and Brooklyn Republican senators and assemblymen were elected where Democrats have been returned year after year. In Brooklyn a Democratic mayor was beaten by a narrow plurality.

THE NEWS GIVES SOME.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 6.—The story of yesterday in Kentucky is much like that of a year ago. It is something in the nature of another landslide. Old Democratic strongholds have gone Republican, while others have suffered a serious demotion in their accustomed majorities. Returns from over eighty counties, including Jefferson, give Bradley a lead of about 4,000. Among the counties not reported are some strongly Democratic and others strongly Republican. At the Republican headquarters claim the state by 15,000 and the lower branch of the legislature by 5 to 6 votes.

The Results in Brief.

MARYLAND.
Entire Republican state ticket elected, and Legislature Republican on joint ballot. Senate 15 Democrats to 11 Republicans; House 68 Republicans to 24 Democrats. Senator Gibson, Dem., will be succeeded by a Republican.

NEBRASKA.
Republicans by 10,000 majority. Silver wing of the Democratic party outvoted by the Cleveland wing, there being two tickets in the field.

MISSISSIPPI.
Democratic majority of 30,000 for McLean, Dem., over Burkitt, Populist. Legislature increased Democratic majority.

NEW YORK.
State Republican by 67,000 majority. Both branches of the Legislature Democratic. Tammany ticket elected in New York City by 16,000 majority.

NEW JERSEY.
Griggs, Rep., elected Governor by 27,000, the first Republican governor in thirty years. Republicans have the Legislature also.

PENNSYLVANIA.
Democrats get one of the Superior Court Judges, Peter P. Smith. State Republican by 170,000 majority.

TEXAS.
Republicans elect state ticket and Legislature. This gives them two Senates.

KANSAS.
Republicans carry the State over the Populists by 40,000 majority.

IOWA.
Republican majority 60,000. General Assembly overwhelmingly Republican, the majority being 95 on joint ballot.

VIRGINIA.
Democrats elect 34 out of 40 Senators and 76 out of 100 Representatives.

MASSACHUSETTS.
Greenhalge, Republican, elected by 65,000 majority.

ILLINOIS.
Republicans carry Chicago by 30,000 majority. W. F. L. Hanley, a free silver Republican, elected to Congress in the 13th district.

BREATHITT AND LINN.
The race for Circuit Judge in this district went the same way as the State. James Breathitt defeats L. C. Linn by the following vote, majorities only being given.

The County Returns.

It has been very difficult to obtain the figures from the county race. The County Clerk says he has nothing to give out and we have been compelled to rely upon our own unofficial returns, which are not complete. Those marked with an asterisk are majorities only. The winning precincts will add about 400 votes to each total without changing the majority.

THE LEGISLATURE IN DOUBT.

The most careful estimates show the Republicans have elected about fifty members of the lower house, and the returns show the Democratic representation to be forty-one. There are nine legislative districts that are unreported. In the last House these districts were represented by Democrats. If the Democrat is elected in every one of them the best the Democrats can do will be to make a tie in the lower house, Republicans and Democrats each having fifty members.

For the upper House nineteen Senators were chosen yesterday. Ten of these are Democrats, and there are nineteen hold-over Senators, five of whom are Republicans and fourteen Democrats. This will make the vote in the Senate, Democrats 24, Republicans 14, and on joint ballot stand: Democrats 55, Republicans 64, doubtful as unreported districts 9.

Until these nine doubtful districts are officially reported it will not be known whether this Legislature will send a Democrat or a Republican to the United States Senate.

The Democrats have elected these members in the following districts: Anderson, Jno. T. Stout; Ballard, Chas. Wickliffe; Barren, J. M. Richardson; Bracken, J. B. Hiles; Bourbon, Jno. T. Hinton; Boyle, H. K. Hay; Bullitt, R. V. Norman; Calloway, A. D. Thompson; Carroll, B. F. Furnish; Clark, J. D. Willis; Clinton, Alvin Bertram; Crittenden, T. J. Nickles; Davies, W. A. Baird; Owensboro, A. C. Thomkins; Floyd, John Johns; Franklin, Jas. A. Vilett; Fulton, J. C. Speight; Grant, W. H. Daugherty; Harrison, J. E. Robbins; Hardin, C. W. White; Harrison, M. C. Swinford; Henry, W. P. Thorne; Jessamine, R. S. Perry; Louisville, 1st district, A. J. Carville; Larue, H. H. Moss; Lyon, N. N. Rice; Marion, Chas. Spalding; Mason, Jas. E. Cahill; Mercer, Morgan Chinn; Nelson, Isaac W. Gentry; Nicholas, C. C. Gillespie; Oldham, W. O. Coleman; Owen, S. P. Witt; Scott, J. H. Hannon; Shelby, P. J. Force; Simpson, J. W. Dinning; Union, W. M. Berry; Warren, W. L. Gossett; Bowling Green, Nerge Clark; Woodford, Jno. A. Steele. These make a total of 40.

The Republicans have the following: Adair, L. T. Neal; Allen, J. H. Gilliam; Bath, Barnes; Bell, T. S. Ward; Boone, Wm. Metcalfe; Boyd, H. H. Gambill; Breathitt, Jas. G. Bailey; Breckinridge, Chas. Blanford; Butler, N. T. Howard; Caldwell, R. R. Morgan; Campbell, W. H. Lyons; Newport, Geo. Lieberth; Carter, John Davis; Casey, Fred Elder; Christian, G. F. Rogers; Clay, H. C. Baldwin; Estill, Green Garrett; Fayette, Thos. L. Walker; Lexington, Wood Dunlap; Fleming, C. L. Hinton; Garrard, right Kelly; Grayson, J. H. Rice; Green, J. W. Prewitz; Greenup, D. J. McCoy; Hancock, Jack Liddle; Hart, Jno. B. Carpenter; Henderson, H. M. Ball; Hopkins, R. K. Graham; Jefferson, R. E. Speed; Louisville, Andrew Thompson, W. H. Woolford, C. S. Dodson, J. C. Freeman, S. M. Carson, W. H. Stigitz; Johnson, W. W. Greer; Knott, W. R. Black; Laurel, Wm. Whitaker; Lewis, A. D. Politt; Lincoln, B. B. King; Logan, J. B. Coffman; Madison, E. T. Burman; McCracken, J. H. Ashcraft; McLean, Adams; Metcalfe, M. T. Flinn; Muhlenberg, H. C. McCracken; Ohio, C. M. Barnett; Pike, Jno. E. Ratcliff; Pulaski, Jno. A. Jasper; Todd, Walter W. Wilkins; Trigg, G. F. Thomas; Washington, J. H. Morgan.

This gives them 62 certain out of 100, which insures the organization of the House. There are 17 districts in which the result is doubtful, as follows: "A common fool is a public nuisance, an idiotic fool is to be pitied and an all-round fool has no business in this world and should take the shortest route out."

CREAM OF NEWS.

IF IT IS NEW AND TRUE THIS COLUMN HAS IT.

Suicide—Sudden Death—Committee Organized—Walking to Atlanta—Graham Arrested—Clubs Depart.

The Committee Organizes.

The newly chosen Democratic Committee met for organization Wednesday afternoon. About fifteen members were present. The meeting was called to order by Chairman Geo. E. Gary, of the old committee. After some discussion it was decided to proceed at once to organization without waiting for the attendance of the absent members at a subsequent meeting. Judge T. J. Morrow was elected chairman by acclamation and Mr. W. R. Howell was chosen secretary with the same unanimity. There were not many changes in the personnel of the committee. The new members are T. J. Morrow, W. R. Howell, Geo. Bradley, W. H. Faxon, G. W. Fox and W. L. Kelly. Several changes will be recommended in the hold-over members where elections were not held, at the request of sitting members who want to retire. Among those agreed upon were Ernest Steger, Longview; J. B. Walker, Berea; Thos. Diner house, Berea; M. A. Mason, Berea; and Ben Carroll, at Perry. The members present were not discouraged by the late defeats, but several ringing assurances were given that the committee had that with good management and a close organization the party would be stronger hereafter from having been chastened and purified.

They're Out for Mississippi.

The Christian County Hunting Club left for the Mississippi bottoms Wednesday morning, for their annual fall hunt. Following is a list of those who will engage in the sport this time: Capt. S. R. White, Jas. S. Parrish, W. W. West, J. K. Caudle, Austin Peay, W. D. Garrett, B. J. Garney, W. A. Lowry, W. H. Faxon, Lyman McComb, Pete Barker, Walter A. Radford, F. S. Beaumont, Henry Hanson, Robt. Garrett, and Dr. C. H. Gray. The club will leave at 6 o'clock, where three cars—a passenger coach, stock car and gondola—were sidetracked for them. The club took along six negro servants, 35 dogs, two wagons, 16 horses, four mules, provisions to last three weeks and ammunition sufficient to kill the surplus game of that state. They were scheduled to arrive at the "happy hunting grounds" at noon yesterday and if they were on time, took a little outing in the afternoon. They are camped on the Mississippi river, where game is reported plentiful. The club will be about the balance of the month, and some fine sport is promised them.

The Earthquake Did It.

The well known spring known as the Bluff Spring, about 6 or 10 miles northeast of town, was stopped from running by the earthquake of Oct. 31. The spring has been running constantly for 98 years within the memory of white men, and was never known to go dry before. It was running as usual the day after the quake of the 30th ult, but within three hours after the shock the next morning it ceased to run and has been dry ever since. The stream which carries the water out with great force from a crevice in a seemingly solid bluff of rock. It is situated near the residence of Mr. Gus Robinson.

Walking to Atlanta.

Jno. L. Grimes, a Chicago barber, accompanied by his wife, passed through the city Wednesday en route to Atlanta on foot. They are making the trip for the novelty of the thing and register at each newspaper office in towns they pass through. They started from Chicago Oct. 15 and arrived here in good condition. They will go via Nashville and Chattanooga. Grimes is a young man of genteel appearance and his wife is a robust young woman who appears equal to the task. He is bringing home a seemingly solid bluff of rock. It is situated near the residence of Mr. Gus Robinson.

John Dawson Dead.

CADIZ, Ky., Nov. 7.—Mr. John W. Dawson, of near Roaring Springs, died rather suddenly Monday evening, aged 66 years. Mr. Dawson was a well known politician, the Jefferson type of democracy and in earlier days did valiant service for the party. He was in his usual good health until a few hours before the summons came. He was brought home of the best families in Trigg county.

Clarksville Settles.

J. B. Wade, who for the last few months had been living in Clarksville, committed suicide Monday in Lebanon, Tenn. He shot himself through the head with a pistol. Wade left a note behind him, as follows: "A common fool is a public nuisance, an idiotic fool is to be pitied and an all-round fool has no business in this world and should take the shortest route out."

"TILL VOTE AS I PLEASE."

The early vote of Jno. G. Carlisle on the day he registered, to a question as to whether he would vote, did perhaps more than any one thing to disorganize the party. His "Till vote as I please," coming on the eve of the election was construed to mean a repudiation of Hardin and bimetalism and an invitation to his lick-spittles to bolt the ticket. What Cleveland did for the rest of the country in 1894, Carlisle has done for poor old Kentucky in 1895. He has carried out the mandates of his master and prevented a silver man from being elected governor. But in pulling down the pillars of his party he has destroyed himself, strong man as he is, in the general wreck.

The scene has changed in the drama of '95. The exit of Jno. G. Carlisle as a prominent quantity marks the advent of Wm. O. Bradley as a possibility for second place. But Carlisle is not entitled to all of the credit for splitting the Democratic party and delivering its leaders bound and gagged into the hands of the Philistines. The Courier Journal, once the organ of stalwart Democracy, has done a double part in the great work of wiping out a majority of 49,000 in the state. The party in the greatest crisis of its existence, in the fight of its life, has had no state organ.

If we except the half-hearted support of the Times, every daily paper in Louisville has supported the Republican ticket openly or secretly. The Democratic party has been beaten by foes in front and traitors in its own ranks. It has gone down in defeat, and Kentucky, the last to succumb, will have a Republican governor for the first time in its history. For years it has stood as the only one of all the states that had never faltered in its allegiance to the principles of Jefferson, but the last sentinel of the unfettered Democracy has been struck down, not by the enemy in front, but by deserters in the rear. But the Democratic party is not dead. Men may come and men may go, but principles are eternal and cannot die. The Democratic principles of home rule, untrammeled trade, honest bimetalism and liberty of conscience will survive defeat and from out of it all will come a better and a stronger party to redeem Kentucky.

Gen Hardin led his ticket even in Louisville, where he received 1,167 more votes than Tyler. The total vote of Jefferson county was Bradley 19,438, Hardin 15,796, (Tyler 15,444), Pettit 297, Demore 254. The county will have 69 votes instead of 105 in the next Democratic convention.

The craphooters and their white allies have captured Kentucky. Democrats who voted for Bradley, Democrats who scratched Hardin and Democrats who stayed at home all helped to do it. Now we shall see what we shall see.

The scramble for asylum places has already begun here. Jas. F. Rogers, of the Banner, expects to be the steward and T. E. Lawson wants to be receiver.

Christian county's vote remains about the same as in 1892 when it was 2,324. The trouble is the Republicans added about 700 to theirs.

Just as we were beginning to think the worst was in, here comes the news that Wurster, Republican, has been counted in as mayor of Brooklyn.

Here in Christian county they are used to this sort of thing, but it is a new experience for the rest of the state.

Alex Tompkins got in by 12 majority in the Owensboro district, but Werner, his opponent, is already talking of a count-out.

Secretary Carlisle voted the straight Democratic ticket, but came near losing his vote by offering to show it to a by-stander.

The Duke of Marlborough and Miss Consuelo Vanderbilt were married in New York Wednesday at noon.

Lord, how it snowed!

WHAT DID IT?

The goldbugs did it.
The scratchers did it.
The stay-at-homes did it.
The Courier-Journal did it.
The craphooters did it.
Grover Cleveland did it.
Jno. G. Carlisle did it.
Pettit's Populists did it.
The campaign lies did it.
The clamor for a change did it.
Republican organization did it.
The earthquake Oct. 31 did it.
The A. P. A. organization did it.
Judge Breathitt, the younger, did it.
Editor Edmundson added he did it.
Cy Brown doesn't deny that he did it.
The secret ballot most of all did it.

There never was a minute that Willie wasn't in it. There are four Willies on the Republican ticket.

Mudge H. G. Petrie beat C. B. Moore for senator in the Elkton district.

Eugene Field, the poet, died at Chicago Tuesday.

Where were you when the cyclone struck us?

That little shake of last week was not a circumstance.

Covington and Lexington elected Democratic mayors.

Bainbridge went Democratic, anyhow, by 11 majority.

AROUND AND ABOUT.

The quarterly meeting for the Hopkinsville Circuit will be held at Hebron to-morrow and Sunday. Rev. J. M. Lawson, presiding elder, will conduct the services.

The president is at work on his message to congress. The chief matter of interest will be the recommendations regarding the country's finances.

The directors of the Cotton States and International exposition will, during the present week, put up $100,000 to liquidate the floating indebtedness of the enterprise.

Impure Blood

Was the cause of my not feeling very well during the spring for several years past. Had dizziness, feeling, was weak and so tired that I could not do much work. For several years I have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla regularly and it has cleansed my blood, driven out the impurities, and I feel like a new man.

FLORIZEL REUTER.

A Child Whose Knowledge Seems Almost Infinite.

This Marvel of Precocity of Only Four and a Half Years Known to Be That Some College Graduates—Some of His Specialties.

A pair of dimpled baby hands grasping a violin bow, a rosy cheek pressed against an instrument many times too large for him, a soul full of music—this was the picture that attracted Max Bendix to the wonderful little boy, Florizel Reuter. He needs no higher lodgement in the musical world than the fact that Max Bendix has taken him in charge, and predicts for him a brilliant future.

Florizel Reuter is a boy four and a half years old, yellow-haired, blue-eyed, with a sunny face full of intelligence, and as handsome as was ever prince in fairy tale. He is physically perfect, and mentally nothing short of marvellous. He is able to recall events in history with as much ease as children of his age would nursery stories. He is a veritable walking encyclopedia. If this be only the possession of a wonderful memory, the marvel is less. He is particularly enthusiastic over the study of zoology. Without any effort he is able to name the animals and tell what countries they are natives of. He had a large collection of butterflies, the names of which he can give without trouble. He enjoys excursions into the woods and parks, and is able to tell at a glance the different insects and butterflies he sees there.

Machinery has a special charm for him, and he is able to draw and name every part of an engine. He writes a bold round hand. Florizel is not fond of children's games that interest them are no more to him than to a person of eighteen or twenty.

He sings in childish treble Scotch ballads, of which he is familiar with many, and recites from "Macbeth," "Hamlet" and "Julius Caesar."

Florizel is full of beautiful and poetic fancies. Through them he lives in a world of his own, which he peoples according to his own ideas. In a storm he hears voices singing. Trills, beautiful runs and arpeggios come to his ear in the varying tones of the wind. One night, awakened from a sound sleep by the wind, he sat up and listened, with a more delighted look, and said to his mamma: "Listen now; the wind is blowing in G," and, as it increased or decreased, he would note at once the change in tone and give the key.

Florizel has only heard one opera, "Siegfried," but is familiar with the libretto of a number. He reads them with perfect ease, and can repeat the entire story from memory of any of them that he has read. He has a novel way of entertain-

THE CHILD IS HIS NEPHEW.

Perplexing Difficulty in Which William Sargent Finds Himself.

William Sargent, a young man of Vanceburg, Ky., finds himself in the peculiar position of being a bigamist, a brother-in-law to his own wife and uncle to his child, which will, when big enough, call him father. And to make his burden still harder to bear Mrs. Kate Evans, an estimable widow of Vanceburg, is twice his mother-in-law.

A few years ago Sargent married Rosa Evans and lived with her a few months. Then he went west to seek his fortune. After two years the report came that he was dead and his wife discarded her weeds a year later and married again. Sargent suddenly turned up in his old home. There was no divorce, but an agreement was entered into by which husband No. 2 was to retain possession of the wife, while Sargent wooed and won Mary, his wife's younger sister. A few weeks after the second marriage the young man again left for parts unknown. A year ago the report came to Vanceburg that he had been killed in Cuba, and wife No. 2 married Charles Simpler, to whom she bore a son.

The other morning Mary and Rosa, while sitting on the front porch of the house they jointly occupy, were astounded to see Sargent coming up the road. Another agreement was proposed, but Sargent refused to entertain it, saying he was going to stay home this time and wanted his wife Mary and the child. Simpler had other alternatives, but chose the simpler way out of the perplexing difficulty. He packed his baggage, kissed his wife good-by and left for Ohio.

Sargent is now in full possession of the house, but doesn't seem to know just where he is, and it will take considerable calculating of genealogical and domestic problems to set him exactly right.

Here is a point for those who believe in the theory of the transmutation of seeds to consider. Mrs. True of the dairy department of the agricultural college, while examining some chaff used in packing ice in the icehouse, in which were some seeds of chaff, discovered that the latter had germinated. The slender rootlets piercing the ice in some cases to the depth of one and one-half inches. Only two other varieties of seeds—rye and mustard—are known to germinate at the temperature of ice.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease calls for a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system thereby destroying the foundation of disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

THE DUKE OF MARLBOROUGH AND MISS CONSUELO VANDERBILT WERE MARRIED IN NEW YORK WEDNESDAY AT NOON.

The Aluminum Output.

The output of aluminum has increased from 223 pounds in 1893 to 650,000 pounds in 1895. The cost of production has been decreased from nearly $10 per pound to less than 60 cents per pound. The output for 1894 was valued at $310,250.—Herald.

A NEW YORK STREET RACKET.

But the Man Who Tried to Work It Was Fooled for Once.

I was looking into a show window one day on Ann street when a young man of good address stepped up on my left, and while seeming to give all his attention to the window, he whispered:

"Stranger, I want to say something to you. Don't turn your head, and don't exhibit surprise."

"Is an anarchist about to hit me in the back with a bomb?" I asked. "Oh no, I wish to say to you, sir, that I want to have you to commit an offense against the law."

"And you want to trade hats with me to disguise yourself?" "No, sir, I committed a theft, but nobody even suspects me. I stole twelve pairs of eye-glasses, and have sold all but this one pair. If you have any use for them I'll make the price a dollar."

"Isn't that pretty steep?" "Why, sir, a pair of eye-glasses like these would cost you six dollars at any oculist's. I'll slip them into your hand and you try 'em on. You don't look like a man who would give an unfortunate away."

"You are perfectly safe with me. How often do you think this game has been tried on me in the last year?"

"Game, sir—game?"

"Yes. The glasses are made in Columbus, O., and sold here for ten cents a pair. There are about fifty of you chaps working the 'thief' racket to work off the glasses. It catches lots of folks, but after buying twenty pairs I quit."

"Sir! do you doubt my word?" he demanded.

"Of course, I do."

"Then, sir, let me tell you that—"

"There, that will do! See that old chap across the street looking at the clothes in the window. Go over and work him."

"Sir! You have called me a liar and—"

"Of course, you are a liar. Go and work the old man."

"Dared I don't," he said, as he looked up with a grin, and thirty minutes later when I saw the old man in front of the Sun office he was tucking away four pairs of eye-glasses and carrying a grin all over his face.—Detroit Free Press.

Epistolary's Young Authors.

The little book of stories by Miss Florence Frances Brasher, which was recently put on the market here, is spoken of in words of high commendation by all who have read it. There are three stories, "In a Day of Darkness," "Where Deep Waters Flowed," and "A Bitter Lesson." The two first are novelettes of fifty or more pages, the last a short story. They are all written in a charming style, entirely free from affectation and bombast, common errors that young authors fall into. Her descriptions are well executed and not overdone. Her characters well drawn and the plots admirably developed. On the whole the stories are interesting in their subject matter, pure in conception and delineated in well chosen words. We regard the young author as a girl of unusual talent—for she is still little more than a child—and the people of Hopkinton, where she lives, consider that she is dependent upon her pen for a livelihood, should encourage and aid her by helping her to dispose of the entire edition of her meritorious little book. It sells at 50¢ at the book stores, or may be ordered by mail.

When a Chinese editor writes and prints something objectionable to the emperor, that dignitary doesn't go around to the printing office and demand a retraction. He has a more satisfactory and expeditious plan, and that is to order the offending editor turned over to the "High Executioner," who proceeds to chop off his head. The Pekin (China) Gazette has been running 1,000 years, and during that brief time seventeen editors have been beheaded. An American editor would not be permitted to run a newspaper in China long enough to read the proof of his salutatory.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

Good Thing It Was Issued Before the Election.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—President Cleveland today issued a proclamation designating Thursday, November 28, as Thanksgiving Day. The proclamation says:

"The constant goodness and forbearance of Almighty God, which have been vouchsafed to the American people during the year which is just past, call for their sincere acknowledgment of devout gratitude. To the end, therefore, that we may, with thankful hearts, unite in extolling the loving care of our Heavenly Father, I, Grover Cleveland, president of the United States, do hereby appoint and set apart Thursday, the twenty-eighth day of the present month of November, as a day of Thanksgiving and prayer, to be kept and observed by all our people."

Queer Misunderstandings.

The conversation one Saturday night in the shop turned upon the misunderstandings caused between customer and clerk by a similarity of sounds. It was told of the tool man that in response to an inquiry for yard sticks, he brought the customer carpet tacks. A more excusable case occurred with the shipping clerk, who came to one of the regular clerks to find out what "will oil" was, and where he would find the best kind. Upon interrogating the customer, who was an Irishman, he said: "It's best will oil I'm wanting," which was his way of pronouncing bicycle oil.—Herald.

The Republicans would still have a majority of 4. Should the majority on joint ballot be even a few votes Democrats, with the House Republican, enough Democrats would probably be unelected to turn the scale on joint ballot and secure the United States Senator. It looks like the bait will go with the hide.

The Democrats appear to have selected the following senators:
First District, T. J. Elmore; 3rd, Paul Sims; 4th, N. P. Taylor; 11th, J. S. Lay; 13th, C. C. McChord; 21st, P. C. Smith; 23rd, B. B. Brown; 27th, C. J. Bronston; 35th, J. M. Sausbury. Holdovers, 14. Total, 23.
The Republicans have: 7th, A. D. James; 9th, H. G. Petrie; 13th, C. J. Walton; 19th, W. H. Jones; 25th, W. J. Hissem; 29th, Jno. Bennett; 31st, A. D. Hummason; 33rd, Wm. Dingus; 37th, C. Stege. Holdovers, 5. Total 14. 17th district not settled.

Two Deaths Near Pembroke.

Pembroke, Nov. 5.—Died at his home on the farm of J. H. Williams near this place, Nov. 4, of typhoid fever, Ed Slaughter, col., aged 37 years. He was highly respected by both white and colored, and bore the name of an upright, honest and honorable Christian, and had been a consistent member of the M. E. church for eighteen years. Died at his home near Salubria, Nov. 5, of pneumonia, Mr. W. B. Vancey, an aged and highly respected citizen. Interment at Roseade cemetery at 2 p. m. Nov. 6.

Black Bear Story.

A sensational rumor comes from Dunbar's Cave. It is said that a big, ferocious black bear is terrorizing the natives in the neighborhood. Bruin is said to have attacked two colored men, Louis Bowling and Peter Kirk, and killed four farmers' dogs. The bear has his lair somewhere near the mouth of the cave, it is said. A good many persons are said to have seen the bear.

Trigg County Hunters.

The Cadiz Hunting club, 18 strong with Col. John D. Shaw, captain, will leave next Tuesday for their annual fall hunt "Between the Rivers." They will take along four servants, about twenty-five dogs, several wagons and plenty of provisions to last for two weeks. Game is reported plentiful in the hunting section and the members of the club are anticipating some fine sport "in the coolings."

One to Reeffoot Lake.

The Blue Wing Hunting Club, of Clarksville, have gone to Reeffoot Lake, where they will spend ten days or two weeks hunting. The club usually goes to the upper end of the lake, but will go to the lower end this year owing to the low water at the upper end caused by the continued drought.

Lost Four Hogs.

TRENTON, Nov. 7.—Last night hog thieves got in their work near here carrying off four fine porkers belonging to Mr. Cole Decker. No positive trace of the thieves or hogs has been discovered, but it is thought that they were carried off in the direction of Clarksville.

How to Save Life After Electrical Shock.

An Engineer Suggests That the Majority of Cases Now Thought to be Fatal May Now Successfully Be Saved.
Idea Developed.

Mr. Henry Wiegand, an electrical engineer, said not long since to a Baltimore Sun man that in his opinion several of the men whose deaths in Baltimore recently were due to electrical shock had only been thrown into a state of suspended animation, from which they could have been revived if intelligent and prompt aid had been given.

"As to the question whether or not a man meets with instant death when he comes in contact with a high-tension electric light wire," said Mr. Wiegand, "the public generally, judging from experience, believes this to be the case. Science, in the light of modern investigation, denies it and asserts that many persons who have been shocked in this manner, and thereby sent to an untimely grave, should now be enjoying life and pushing their vocations as they were before such an accident happened."

"The first effect of a current of high tension is to produce a state of syncope, or suspended animation; then if the current is continued longer and passes in great quantity through the vital organs of the body there ensues a laceration of the more delicate membranes and tissues, and the blood, which is characterized, passes out of its usual channels, engorging in the different organs and causing absolute death. This last condition is not the usual one, and only obtains by design, as in legal electrocutions or in a few other cases."

"In the first class of cases, through the sudden and extraordinary character of the excitement of the nerve centers, a sudden arrest of the respiratory and heart muscles is produced and the patient rests in a state of suspended animation such as we are familiar with in the case of a drowning person. The means of resuscitation to be used are similar to those prescribed in drowning cases, with the exception that as the subject has no water in his lungs no measures need be used to expel it."

"The first thing to do is to lay the man on his back and place a roll of clothing under his shoulders, so as to prop up his spine and drop his head backward, leaving his chest to expand and contract freely. The operator should then kneel at the head of the patient, in a line with the head and feet, and grasping the elbows, draw them well over the patient's head, so as to bring them almost together above it, and hold them there for a few seconds. They carry them down to the sides and front of the chest, firmly compressing it by resting weight upon them. After two or three seconds the arms are again carried above the head and the same maneuver is repeated at the rate of about fifteen times per minute. At the same time the tongue must be drawn out to free the throat."

"This manipulation stimulates respiration in the following manner: When the arms are extended over the head the chest walls are expanded, just as in inspiration, and if the throat is clear the air will rush into the lungs. When the arms are brought down to the sides of the chest, compressing it, air is expelled, just as in expiration and artificial respiration. In performing this operation the performer must proceed with methodical deliberation and not spasmodically or halfheartedly."

"In addition to the above, if an assistant is at hand, the tongue, held by a cloth or handkerchief to prevent it from slipping, should be drawn out forcibly each time the arms are extended over the head and allowed to recede when the arms are returned to the chest. This rhythmic traction of the tongue, besides keeping the throat passage open, assists in stimulating nasal respiration."

"The treatment should be kept up until the arrival of a physician, who

NANCY HANKS' GRAVE

Meeting Place of Lincoln's Mother Marked by a Simple Stone.

In traveling to Louisville on the Louisville, Evansville & St. Louis railroad, a traveler passing through the small town of Lincoln, in Spencer county, southern Indiana. The place derives its name from the old homestead of Abraham Lincoln's father, the farm lying half a mile or so from the railroad depot. The mother of the martyr president is buried here in a thickly wooded spot, within a stone's throw of where once stood Lincoln's father's log cabin. A plain, white tombstone, surrounded by a neat fence, marks the place where her ashes lie. The tombstone has the following plain inscription:

NANCY HANKS LINCOLN,
 Mother of President Lincoln.
 Oct. 5 A. D. 1818
 Age 33 years.

As part of the old homestead and out-buildings still remain, with a few fence

GRAVE OF LINCOLN'S MOTHER.

The main building was torn down for some time, and it has been a great many years since the cabin was occupied. Relic seekers would scarcely think of stopping off at Lincoln to find nothing of interest. Very few persons outside of the few hundred inhabitants of Lincoln know where the grave is located, and the place has very few visitors. Attention has been called to the place lately by a movement which is on foot to have a fine monument erected on the site, but as yet nothing definite has been done.

Warship Becomes an Eating House.

On the eastern shore of Long Island, looking out at the waters of Long Island sound, stands all that remains of the once stately and powerful frigate Macdonough. The ship, which years ago, resounded to the clatter of arms and shook under the discharge of cannon, now does service as a modest hotel, where bachelors and single men, who are sold. The Macdonough struck her flag to Commodore Decatur, off the Canary Islands, in October, 1812. She was refitted and saw active service in the United States navy, but was condemned and dismantled in 1874. In 1887 the remains of the old warship were converted into an eating house.

Mr. Louis Bontas has made some interesting experiments in submarine photography. He is an ardent student of zoology, and during the investigation he made on the shore of the Mediterranean he was impressed with the beauty of the sights offered, that he concluded to make some effort to represent them by pictures well as by words. His first experiments were made at a slight distance under the surface of the water, where the intensity of the light is sufficient for the production of photographs; he constructed a camera and an instantaneous shutter especially adapted for use in water. Dear friends, when I am dead and gone, don't have so many flowers as I have had. As though they weren't so simple left. Don't multiply your work of woe by sorry looks and flower dishes. As make the trouble less likely worse. By silver foliage's adornment.

When I depart, let my love be the most consoling thing to me. To be to hear the ones I loved. To comfort me when I am dead. Say, sort of "smile" through their tears: "Well, enough, for years ago, we said and here, so let us read. And thank for the joy we had."

It isn't so hard to make a fuss. When death comes after one of us. The way of Providence, I know. As they should be snatched. Things that we judge infinitely well. An even at a funeral. To sing and the grief at home. Please do from whom all blessing's flow. —Nixon Waterman, in A. W. Bulletin.

TOBACCO NEWS.

(Reported Nov. 7, '95, by J. H. Hagleton, of A-ford Lewis & Co., lead dealers.)

On account of the absence of several of the buyers from the city last week there were no public sales. The offerings this week 24 bbls., and only 4 bbls. were sold. Receipts were the smallest for the year, 5 bbls. Weather still very dry and no handling season as yet. The sales are practically at an end until we have a season, as the small stock on sale is but little over 2-10 bbls., and they are re-used non-descript tobacco. The loose buyers are doing nothing on account of the drouth of the weed. It is the impression with the planters, on account of the damage of the worm cut and frost, that prices will be higher for the 1896 crop. I wish to say there is no good grounds to base the impression on whatever. When we see how low prices are in foreign markets and the Regie men have already delivered 200,000 supply at the present time and everybody abroad are very reluctant at the present to buy. However, this market has a bright future before it and there is no doubt but what prices will be equally as good on all grades of tobacco on this market as say other and the facility for handling and taking care of will be very good, as there is a large additional house in course of erection and will be prepared to handle 300,000 bbls., besides the large loose purchases that will be in line. I wish to prevail in the planters to improve on the quality and not in quantity, which will result better prices.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment which rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the famous, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectively cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation.
It has given satisfaction to millions and has met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

MATRIMONIAL.

COX-REYNOLDS.—Mr. Herbert
Cox, a prominent young Gracery farmer, and Miss Fannie Lou Reynolds, daughter of Mr. C. C. Reynolds, were married at Shiloh church at 4:30 p. m.
Wednesday. A reception was tendered the couple at night by Mrs. Nannie F. Cox, mother of the groom.

GOODLETT-GARROTT.—Mr. A. G.
Goodlett, Jr., of Nashville, and Miss Lucy Garrott, of Longview, were united in marriage Wednesday, at 3 p. m. The happy event took place at Locust Grove church, near the Square. Immediately after the ceremony the couple were driven to this city, where after partaking of lunch at Hotel Latham, they left for Nashville, their future home.

COX-VAUGHAN.—At the home of the bride's parents, on South Central street, Tuesday night, Mr. Walter Cox and Miss Georgia Vaughan were united in marriage. Rev. King, pastor of the Cumberland Presbyterian church, officiating. Only a few of the friends of the contracting parties were present to witness the happy event.

The groom is an energetic young mechanic, who has been in the employ of Forbes & Bro. for several years and is a clever gentleman, with many friends.

His bride is the daughter of Mr. W.
T. Vaughan and is a lady of much beauty and is quite popular with her large list of acquaintances.

The young couple will board for the present.

A CHILD ENJOYS

The pleasant flavor, gentle and soothing effect of Syrup of Figs when in need of laxative, and if the father or mother be constipated or bilious, the most gratifying results follow its use; so that it is the best family remedy known, and every family should have a bottle on hand.

C. R. Graham is Trouble.

C. R. Graham, who spent several months here as agent for the National Collecting Agency, is under arrest here on a warrant from his agency.
It is not exactly clear what the complaint is. It is said they deny that he is their agent. Graham has wired the agency to know what the trouble is and is being guarded until a reply comes. He is a young man of pleasant address who came here from Oremboro.

LATER: The charges against Mr.
Graham were dismissed by Judge Boschert and he returned to Paducah this morning.
